Profile

Robert Stiles practiced with leading firms in the City and West End of London before joining Stiles Harold Williams in 1972. Since then he has advised a wide number of clients in both the private and public sectors on numerous property matters, chiefly the sale and acquisition of commercial and residential property for investment and development.

He has also undertaken the project management on behalf of clients of various development projects such as a £7.5 million hotel and retail development in central Horsham and a £20 million mixed-use scheme in West Street, Brighton.

He has been both Managing Director and Chairman of Stiles Harold Williams.

Project Experience

Robert Stiles has served as a non-Executive member of a number of organizations including an NHS Healthcare Trust, a regional Building Society, a private school, the London & South East Industrial & Development Board, various business organizations in Sussex and as a Trustee of the Royal Institution of Chartered Surveyors Benevolent Fund.

He is a Liveryman of the Chartered Surveyors' Company.
